

BRADLEY J. WOMBLES ASSOCIATE

Brad Wombles is an associate at Norris Choplin Schroeder LLP. He joined the firm as a law clerk in 2008 after serving judicial internships for Chief Justice Randall Shepard of the Indiana Supreme Court and the Honorable Judge John D. Tinder of the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.

A native of Indianapolis, Mr. Wombles earned his bachelor's degree in history and social studies education from Purdue University, where he was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa honor society. Prior to attaining his law degree, he worked as a secondary history and government teacher for eight years.

In 2010, Mr. Wombles earned his law degree magna cum laude from the Indiana University Robert H. McKinney School of Law.

While in law school, he was a finalist for the Robert H. Staton Moot Court competition and recipient of the Judge Cale J. Holder Distinguished Scholar Award.

Mr. Wombles resides in Indianapolis with his wife and two children. He serves in his local church and is involved in other community activities including coaching youth baseball teams at Southport Little League.

Practices

Construction Law
Insurance Defence
Personal Injury
Subrogation
Products Liability

Bar Admissions

State of Indiana
Southern District of Indiana
Northern District of Indiana
7th Circuit Court of Appeals
Workers' Compensation Board

Education

Purdue University, with honors, 1999
Indiana University School of Law, Indianapolis, magna cum laude, 2010

Professional Associations

Indiana Bar Association
Indianapolis Bar Association
American Bar Association

Publications

Contributor to Justices of the Indiana Supreme Court, 2010.
Contributor to Indiana Historical Marker recognizing Supreme Court Justice Isaac Blackford, 2011